COUNTY TEACHERS MEET HERE TODAY

SCHOOL BOARD OFFICIALS ALSO ATTEND OPENING SESSION

HAS EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Superintendent Cooper Leads Applicants to Positions — Speaker Tells About Unions

There was a full attendance of teachers and a fair representation of school boards officials at the teachers and school board members conference which held its first session of a two-day meet in the Washington school building this morning and afternoon.

One of the features of the conference today is what might be termed an employment bureau or teachers' agency with Bert Cooper, county superintendent, the agent. For instance a school board president informs Prof. Cooper that he has no teacher for his district school and some young girl, possibly fresh from the State Teachers College, has previously informed him that she has no position and Prof. Cooper introduces the two for the purpose of seeing whether they cannot come to a mutual agreement that will be satisfactory to both parties concerned. In that way the score or more vacancies in the rural school of Nodaway county may be filled or nearly filled by the time school opens next Monday morning.

At the morning hour President Richardson of the State Teachers College addressed the teachers and school board officials. The most outstanding topic of President Richardson's address was his mention and emphasis of the fact that there are movements on foot, looking toward the organization of the teaching profession into a strong union, similar to any of the federations of labor. The chief incentive for such organziation is the insufficient salaries that are being paid teachers.

In discussing this subject of salaries the speaker asked one of the school board officials sitting in front of him, what he paid his hired man on the farm and was answered that the hired man received $50 and room and board. Room and board figured at $8 a week would cost $32 a month, making the hired man's salary $82 a month. The teacher in that man's district is paid $75 a month. It was further emphasized that the average rural teacher is paid only eight months out of the year and must spend much time and money in preparation for her profession.

Prof. W. M. Oakerson, superintendent of the schools at Jefferson City, made a talk this morning, although his principal address comes this afternoon. Prof. Oakerson, in speaking of the salaries paid teachers, stated that the solution of the difficulty lay in more taxes for school purposes. He pointed out the fact that the land in Nodaway county is only assessed at $35 an acre or less. "Raise the taxes for school purposes and you can raise the teachers to a living wage," he said.

This afternoon Attorney Ellis G. Cook explained the interpretation that lawyers are giving to the new compulsory attendance school law which was passed by the last legislature. Prof. Oakerson is scheduled to make the pricipal address of the afternoon. The day's session will close with a sectional meetings of teachers to study new methods in drawing and with a conference of the school board officials with Prof. Cooper to discuss administrative problems.

HE IS LOOKING FOR POTATO WART, NEW DISEASE IN U. S,

Representative of Bureau of Plant Industry Investigates Vegetables in Nodaway County

C. H. Philpott, representative of the bureau of plant industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, was in Maryville yesterday afternoon and this morning, making a general survey of plant diseases, but particularly of a disease of potatoes known as potato wart.

This disease was brought to this country in a shipment of potatoes from Europe to a Pennsylvania market, from which they were scattered broadcast. So far, the disease has not been discovered in Missouri. However, it is not improbable that it occurs in isolated cases. It has been found scattered through gardens here and there in various parts of the country.

The disease affects the potatoes underground. Its appearance may be recognized by a rough, spongy outgrowth of varying size appearing on the tubers, especially at the eyes. These warts are light brown at first, but become black and decayed with age. Sometimes all potatoes in affected hills are worthless. The discase does not attack the vines above the ground.

The parasite which causes the potato wart is spread most frequently by using diseased potatoes for seed. Soil once infected remains contaminated for many years.

The United States Department of Agriculture asks that all cases of this disease or cases which are thought to be the potato wart be reported to them or to the nearest experiment station or state college.

MARYVILLE "GREEKS" PLAN PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

Local Fraternity Men Get Together at First Banquet—Dr. F. R. Anthony Chairman

The old heads and the new heads got together last night at the banquet of local fraternity men at the Bainum Hotel and waxed reminiscent over the fruit cocktail and the fried chicken and the apple pie a la mode. About thirty attended. College songs were sung, stories of the sort common around college were told, and in general the atmosphere of school was recalled so vividly that some of those to whom school is only a memory only declared it was the best time they had had in years.

Just before adjournment the plan of a temporary organization was brought up. All agreeing that something of the sort was advisable, the motion was passed. Dr. F. R. Anthony, the toastmaster of the evening, was named temporary chairman. Philip Colbert was elected temporary secretary and Harold Ryan was chosen temporary treasurer. The chairman apointed Fred Wolfers, W. N. Deatherage and Bruce Montgomery as a committee on permanent organization. Monthly meetings may be held.

The principal addresses of the evening were made by Mr. Wolfers and Mr. Deatherage. They agreed that fraternities had a democratic influence and that an organization of fraternity men in Maryville was desirable. A random suggestion by the chairman near the close of the evening that this fraternity organization might later become the nucleus of a local university club was favorably received.

Nine social and seven professional fraternities were represented in the gathering.

U. S. ARMY TURNED BACK TO CIVILIANS

SEC'Y BAKER SAYS DEMOBILIZATION SETS A RECORD

WE BROUGHT 'EM HOME

French and English Helped Carry Troops Over—364,000 Returned In a Month

Washington, Aug. 26.—The demobilization of our army to date was declared one of the greatest accomplishments of the war by Secretary Baker today in a statement pointing out the comparison between the figures in this war and those of '98 and '65. The secretary laid particular emphasis upon the great record of transportation achieved in returning the men from France.

"The demobilization record to date is one of the most splendid successes of the war," said the secretary. "It ranks favorably with the greatest achievements of the war. In one month alone we brought home more than a third of a million men, this with little help from the British and French shipping that had largely been withdrawn at that time. The British and French took more than fifty per cent of our men overseas, but almost single-handed we brought back as many as 364,000 men in the month of June, more men than were ever transported overseas in a single month.

"Demobilization during the present war has far eclipsed the work either of the Civil or Spanish wars. To date we have brought back from overseas more than 1,888,000 men. We have demobilized all but about 500,000 of our four million men.

"In one month after the signing of the armistice we had demobilized 351,206 men and 16,000 officers. In 1898 it took ten months to muster out 197,397 of the 216,256 officers and men serving when the American forces in that war was at its peak. Certain units were demobilized from the Philippines even later than that. In the Civil War the strength of the volunteer army was 1,034,064 when demobilization began. It took from May 1, 1865, to November 1, 1866, or eighteen months, to muster out this force. In approximately two and a half months after the armistice was signed we had mustered out 1,023,884 men and 62,000 officers, thus more than equalling the eighteen month record of the Civil War.

"The movement homeward and demobilization of troops began almost contemporaneously with the signing of the armistice. At the time the president, going abroad in March, ordered rapid demobilization, the first processes were well under way and from that time on we carried out a program of demobilization that is almost astounding under circumstances of transportation and other difficulties that had to be ovrecome.

"There are at present approximately 350,000 emergency troops to be discharged. There are less than 100,000 men now in Europe and under present plans there will be less than 35,000 men in France on September 1. There are already more than a hundred thousand new enlistments and about 85,000 new enlistments are needed to bring the enlisted quota of the army up to the authorized 225,000 strength."

Further figures on enlistments in the regular army show that 21,671 of the men newly enlisted have expressed their preferences as regards places of service. Of these 12,754 have expressed a desire to serve in Europe. Among the branches of service preferences given 37,344 want to serve in the infantry, while 11,878 express a preference for the cavilry.

SAYS THAT GREAT DEMAND WILL KEEP PRICES HIGH

Ralph Eversole, Recently Returned From New York, Finds That Heavy Buying in the East Continues

"The opinion among merchants in New York City and other big markets of the East is that goods will cost more next spring than they will this fall." says Ralph Eversole, of Eversole & Son dry goods, lately returned from a two weeks' buying trip to New York.

"There is no possibility of dry goods going down in price so far as I can see. There is much heavy buying of dry goods in New York today. Whether this is brought about by fear of much higher prices or for speculation I do not know."

The most logical cause for the prevailing and sustained high prices of merchandise, Mr. Eversole thinks, is the fact that European merchants are buying everything that they can get their hands on and are paying spot cash for it. The United States has become the market place for South America, also, which Europe formerly was. Present prices, therefore, are merely the working out of the law of supply and demand. The demand is great and the supply limited because European merchants have not been able to manufacture articles to any great extent for several years.

"The enormous sales to merchants across the Atlantic will tend to popularize American goods in those countries," says Mr. Eversole. "As to whether New York is setting the styles or Paris, I cannot say. The class of goods the small town merchant buys is not much affected by those considerations, since he buys a staple brand of ready-to-wear apparel. Of course, the large city store of an exclusive nature must cater to the ultra-fashionable and question as to whether New York or Paris designers lead become of considerable importance.

"Profiteering investigations have been confined strictly to food values in New York. No doubt there is profiteering to some extent in all lines of business.

"The transit strike which tied up the subways and elevated lines of New York for one day was noticed by us when we appeared at the places of business where we were buying. Many of the clerks were absent all day, being unable to get to work.

"The weather in New York was very cool while we were there. It rained two or three days in the two weeks spent there, and I learned that it rained considerably the greater part of the summer in that section."

Miss Lois K. Halley of Maryville, a graduate of the University of Missouri and formerly teacher in the Maryville High School, returned to Maryville Sunday night from Minnesota, where she spent the summer in health center work under the supervision of the University of Minnesota.

After a visit of two weeks here, Miss Halley will go to Fayette, Mo., where she wil have the chair of education in Howard-Payne College the coming session.

Miss Halley's summer work was in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. She was associated in her work with Miss Florence Briggs, who once was teacher of chemistry in the Maryville High School. Miss Brigs is now supervisor of the health center work in St. Paul.

LOS ANGELES IS TIED UP

Southern California Trouble Adds to Prevailing Excitement in the World of Railroads

Washington, Aug. 26—The committee representating the railway shopmen today notified Walker D. Hines, director-general of the railroads, they could not accept as a basis of settlement the 4 cents an hour increase offered them.

Washington ,Aug. 26—The next step of the railway shopmen in their drive for sweeping wage increases had not been decided early today. The question before the labor leaders was whether the strike voted for the six hundred thousand shopmen of the country was to be filled or whether the men, in response to the request of President Wilson, would be asked to vote upon the acceptance or rejection of the increase amounting to 4 cents an hour, as announced by Director-General Hines yesterday. The final decision is expected some time today, according to the labor leaders.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26—There is no indication of an early settlement of the steam railroad strike which has completely tied up Southern California from San Diego to Santa Barbara and Bakersfield. The strike has reached Yuma, Ariz.

Hourly the situation becomes more critical, with Los Angeles and other cities facing a shortage of supplies. Hundreds are marooned here and in various points in Southern California, unable to reach their destinations.

President Urges Co-operation

We are face to face with a situation which is more likely to affect the happiness and prosperity and even the life of our people than the war itself. We have got to bring our industries and our labor back to a normal basis after the greatest upheaval known in history and the winter just ahead of us may bring suffering infinitely greater upon us if we blunder or fail.

An admirable spirit of self-sacrifice, of patriotic devotion, guided and inspired us while the fighting was on. We shall need all these now and then in a heightened degree if we are to accomplish the first tasks of peace. If we fail, it will mean national disaster. The first step is to increase production and facilitate transportation * * * and so, as soon as possible, relieve our people from the cruel burden of high prices.

It goes without saying that if our efforts to bring the cost of living down should fail, after we have had time enough to establish either a success or failure, it will of course be necessary to accept the higher cost of living as a permanent basis of adjustment, and railway wages should be readjusted along with the rest. All that I am now urging is that we should not be guilty of the inexcusable inconsistency of making general increases in wages on the assumption that the present cost of living will be permanent at the very time that we are trying with great confidence to reduce the cost of living and are able to say that it actually is beginning to fall. —From President Wilson's statement to representatives of the railway shopmen.

FARRIS CHARGES THAT REED WOULD FORM THIRD PARTY

In Open Letter Phelphs County Representative Urges Senator Not to Do It

Senator James A. Reed, according to a dispatch from Jefferson City, is charged with plotting to wreck the Democratic party so that a third party might be organized, in an open letter made public by Representative Frank H. Farris of Phelps county, leader of the anti-Reed Democrats. In adopting the resolution at the St. Louis meeting declaring the Missouri senior senator out of harmony with his party, Farris declares that the Democratic state committee did so merely to advise Reed to stick to his party.

The Farris letter was prepared in answer to the one written by Senator Reed to John P. Leahy, St. Louis Irish Democrat, which charged the state committee usurped the powers of the party convention by endorsing the League of Nations, and urging the Irish Democrats not to bolt, as the party soon might get its feet on solid ground again.

The Phelps county legislator forced the Reed question to an issue at the recent state committee meeting over the objections of many Democrats who desired the party to continue to straddle. Farris threatened last winter when Reed spoke here to take steps to read the Missouri senator out of the party. He and eighteen other legislators walked out of the meeting Reed addressed. Farris says now he favors a state convention to follow up the action of the state committee and to let Reed know he does not represent his party by opposing the Wilson policies.

The Farris letter:

"The senator may advise his Irish friends to stick to the Democratic party, but adherence to a little such advice on his own account might be of wonderful benefit to the public, and in the future be a crowning glory for him. His party from every part of the state now is, and has been for the last three years, advising him to stick to his party, and that was the only purpose of the meeting of our committee. Twenty-nine of us are not attempting to drive one man, much less hundreds, from the Democratic ranks, but may we inquire why one man, even though a United States senator, will heedlessly disregard and trample upon the wishes of the great majority of his own party, as well as the views of the great majority of the whole people of his state?"

The Lure of the Open Road

A MAN who owns a motor car—be it a big, luxurious limousine or only a little flivver, has at command the means of satisfying one of his most primitive instincts, a desire to fare forth like a true adventurer and enjoy the freedom of the open country.

Accompanied by his family or his friends, he, like the Argonauts, can start a little journey into unfamiliar places.

He need have no fear of consequences, for the modern automobile is a sturdy, dependable friend. All it asks is gasoline, a little lubricating oil, and water. With this it goes up hill and down, without fret or worry.

The wayside brook, or the well on a friendly farm supplies the water, while gasoline and oil may be had anywhere from the Service Stations of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The splendid system of distribution organized and maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) covers every city, town, and hamlet, and in many cases there is a tank and pump beside the little store at the fork of the roads.

This complete distribution of its products is one of the chief services rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to the motorists of America, yet it represents but one of the many benefits derived by the public at large from the operation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant.

IF YOU KNOW ABOUT MOORE MURDER, NOTIFY VILLISCA

Iowa Grand Jury Will Ask You to Help Out in Seventh Yearly Investigation.

Villisca, Iowa, Aug. 26.—It is getting so that it is hardly safe for any former resident of Montgomery county who ever remotely figured in the Moore tragedy here, to revisit the state if they would avoid summons to appear before the coming session of the grand jury, which, from all indications, is preparing to make an extensive and expensive probe of the murders in the Moore home which have almost yearly for the last seven years been the basis of some sort of judicial investigation.

Dan Stillans, former resident of Villisca, who is here from Great Falls, Mont., on a visit with his parents, had been in the city but a few hours when an officer pounced upon him with a summons to appear before the Montgomery County grand jury October 14 next.

Similarly, Gay Cowgill of Kansas City, who was here visiting relatives, was visited by Sheriff Peterson and summoned to appear before the grand jury in October.

Divorce Suit Alleges Indignities.

James Peterson filed suit for divorce against Della Peterson, alleging that the defendant daily scolded and nagged at the plaintiff without justification. The petition states they were married in St. Joseph on September 18, 1918, and lived together until April 8, 1919. Sherman & Otis of St. Joseph are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SHOES WILL BE LOWER.

National Retailers Say Range Will be $8 to $12 a Pair.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 25.—Officers and directors of the National Shoe Retailer's Association, in special session here yesterday, denied there was any organized profiteering among the retail dealers of the United States.

A statement authorized by the meeting said that many styles of footwear would be eliminated for the spring season of 1920 in an effort to reduce prices. The entire style program will be formulated with a view to eliminating duplication of styles and other conditions contributing to unavoidable costs. The statement said: "Instead of the almost innumerable colors prevailing prior to the war shoes for the spring season of 1920 will be made up in but nine shades."

Prices of shoes this fall, it was announced, will range from $8 to $12 a pair.

Miss Airy to Alabama.

Miss Lucile Airy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Airy, will leave tomorrow morning for Brewton, Ala., where she will teach in the commercial department of a girls' boarding school.

Sunshine on Wash Day

It was "Blue Wonday"—Oh, how she dreaded it. The wash woman would come and there would be dirt and muss and steam and heat all the morning, or well into the afternoon. Perhaps the woman wouldn't come—wash women are getting scarce since the country went dry. Then she will have to literally get into the tub and scrub and rinse and wring and hang till she is about ready to drop.

What does she hear—someone at the back door—what is it? An Electric Washer—husband sent it up—the water is all hot and we will show her how to run it.

Forty-five minutes later and the washing hangs spotless on the line and she says, "Why, how easy—I'm not tired at all." And when hubby comes home everything is clean, dinner is hot and besides all that there's sunshine all over the place and a big hug and kiss waiting for him.

Say, ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?

Wealth is a Condition of the Mind

What profiteth a man to gain a fortune and then lose his automobile or his peace of mind?

The little boy with his goat wagon is sometimes happier than the owner of a Ford or an automobile.

Nobobdy would steal the goat nor burn his wagon.

He is rich because of the condition of his mind. He is happy because nature has not tightened his purse strings.

Nature is the soothing syrup to the boy, and a good automobile policy is the painkiller to the grown ups. You spend your money freely for the car, and then resort to magnetic treatment to keep your nerves quiet for fear of fire and theft.

Instead of going through this valley of gloom why don't you let us treat you to a good insurance policy against all these hazards.

A few dollars invested in a good automobile insurance policy, would purge your mind of fear and be a cathartic to your entire make-up.

If you knew your automobile was going to be stolen or burned up you'd break your neck to get to our office for a fire and theft policy. Not being able to judge what the future has in store for you, why don't you take a fire and theft policy against your car and if it is burned or stolen let the company buy you a new one.

We write a farmers policy three-year term that cannot be beat.

We write town cars—we write all our automobile insurance in the biggest companies in the world.

FEWER HOGS LOST IN U. S. BY CHOLERA; VALUE LARGER

Timeliness in Vaccinating is All Important, Says Department of Agriculture

According to records of the United State Department of Agriculture for the 13 months from April 1, 1918, to April 30, 1919, hog cholera killed 2,815,004 hogs, valued at $62,042,688.16, in the United States. This is the lowest loss by numbers for a similar period in the live stock history of the United States, but on account of the high price of hogs the monetary loss was heavy. For example, during the year ending March 31, 1913, hogs numbering 6,064,470 and worth $58,833,653, died from cholera, while the next year the disease took 6,304,320 hogs worth $67,697,461.

Department experiments show that timeliness in vaccinating hogs against cholera is all important. When exposed hogs were vaccinated, while till apparently healthy, losses amounted to only 4 per cent, but when vaccination was deferred until the animals showed external signs of sickness, losses averaged nearly 29 per cent. This shows that the man who puts off the preventive treatment until his hogs are sick with cholera stands only about one chance in seven of preventing fatal results. It is important, also, to maintain hog yards and barns in clean and sanitary condition.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 25.—A liberal run of cattle today, 29,000, included few good to choice fat steers and an unusually large per cent of common grades. The best were strong and others sold slowly at weak prices. Hogs were 25 to 50 cents higher and sheep steady.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 29,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs, 17,000 sheep, compared with 30,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep a week ago, and 33,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs and 6,300 sheep a year ago. Cattle receipts included few fat western offerings and the bulk of the supply came from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Sheep receipts, 17,000, included a liberal supply from Utah.

Beef Cattle.

Choice to prime fed steers and the best grass fat cattle were in active demand at strong prices. A few loads of choice native steers sold at $18@$18.90, or as high as any time in the past two weeks. Some yearling steers brought $17.75, and wintered steers $13.50@$15.50. Straight grass fat steers brought $9@$13.50. Common half fat grassers sold slowly at last week's full decline, or 50 to 75 cents under a week ago. Butcher cattle were quoted steady, cows at $5.50@$11.25, and heifers $7.50@$12.50. Veal calves were $1 higher at $9@$16.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Nearly all weights of stock and feeding steers that showed quality were in active demand at steady prices but a large number of common light weight grades were hard to move at irregular prices. Feeders sold at $9@$14.50, mostly $10@$11.50, for 800 to 950 pound weights. Stockers brought $8@$11.50, stock cows and heifers brought $6@$9.25.

Hogs.

Trade in hogs was active at 25 to 50 cents higher prices, top $21.45, and bulk of sales $20.50@$21.25. This advance occurred in the face of declines at more Eastern markets and was caused by large demand from local packers and shippers. Prices today are as high as a week ago. The price spread here is much narrower than elsewhere. Demand for stock and feeding pigs is urgent at $18.50@$20.25.

Sheep and Lambs.

Demand for fat lambs was active at steady prices. Receipts from the West were liberal and included several large bunches of 63 to 70 pound Utah lambs that sold at $16.75@$17. Fat sheep were steady to 25 cents lower and stock and feeding grades steady. Fat ewes are quoted at $7.50@$8.75, wethers $9.50@$10.50, and yearlings $11@$12.25. Feeding lambs sold at $13@$14.75.

Horses and Mules.

Beginning September 1st, auction sales of horses and mules will be held on Monday and Tuesday, instead of Fridays and Saturdays.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET HERE TODAY

SCHOOL BOARD OFFICIALS ALSO ATTEND OPENING SESSION

HAS EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Superintendent Cooper Leads Applicants to Positions—Speaker Tells About Unions

There was a full attendance of teachers and a fair representation of school boards officials at the teachers and school board members conference which held its first session of a two-day meet in the Washington school building this morning and afternoon.

One of the features of the conference today is what might be termed an employment bureau or teachers' agency with Bert Cooper, county superintendent, the agent. For instance a school board president informs Prof. Cooper that he has no teacher for his district school and some young girl, possibly fresh from the State Teachers College, has previously informed him that she has no position and Prof. Cooper introduces the two for the purpose of seeing whether they cannot come to a mutual agreement that will be satisfactory to both parties concerned. In that way the score or more vacancies in the rural school of Nodaway county may be filled or nearly filled by the time school opens next Monday morning.

At the morning hour President Richardson of the State Teachers College addressed the teachers and school board officials. The most outstanding topic of President Richardson's address was his mention and emphasis of the fact that there are movements on foot, looking toward the organization of the teaching profession into a strong union, similar to any of the federations of labor. The chief incentive for such organziation is the insufficient salaries that are being paid teachers.

In discussing this subject of salaries the speaker asked one of the school board officials sitting in front of him, what he paid his hired man on the farm and was answered that the hired man received $50 and room and board. Room and board figured at $8 a week would cost $32 a month, making the hired man's salary $82 a month. The teacher in that man's district is paid $75 a month. It was further emphasized that the average rural teacher is paid only eight months out of the year and must spend much time and money in preparation for her profession.

Prof. W. M. Oakerson, superintendent of the schools at Jefferson City, made a talk this morning, although his principal address comes this afternoon. Prof. Oakerson, in speaking of the salaries paid teachers, stated that the solution of the difficulty lay in more taxes for school purposes. He pointed out the fact that the land in Nodaway county is only assessed at $35 an acre or less. "Raise the taxes for school purposes and you can raise the teachers to a living wage," he said.

This afternoon Attorney Ellis G. Cook explained the interpretation that lawyers are giving to the new compulsory attendance school law which was passed by the last legislature. Prof. Oakerson is scheduled to make the pricipal address of the afternoon. The day's session will close with a sectional meetings of teachers to study new methods in drawing and with a conference of the school board officials with Prof. Cooper to discuss administrative problems.

HE IS LOOKING FOR POTATO WART, NEW DISEASE IN U. S,

Representative of Bureau of Plant Industry Investigates Vegetables in Nodaway County

C. H. Philpott, representative of the bureau of plant industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, was in Maryville yesterday afternoon and this morning, making a general survey of plant diseases, but particularly of a disease of potatoes known as potato wart.

This disease was brought to this country in a shipment of potatoes from Europe to a Pennsylvania market, from which they were scattered broadcast. So far, the disease has not been discovered in Missouri. However, it is not improbable that it occurs in isolated cases. It has been found scattered through gardens here and there in various parts of the country.

The disease affects the potatoes underground. Its appearance may be recognized by a rough, spongy outgrowth of varying size appearing on the tubers, especially at the eyes. These warts are light brown at first but become black and decayed with age. Sometimes all potatoes in affected hills are worthless. The disease does not attack the vines above the ground.

The parasite which causes the potato wart is spread most frequently by using diseased potatoes for seed. Soil once infected remains contaminated for many years.

The United States Department of Agriculture asks that all cases of this disease or cases which are thought to be the potato wart be reported to them or to the nearest experiment station or state college.

MARYVILLE "GREEKS" PLAN PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

Local Fraternity Men Get Together at First Banquet—Dr. F. R. Anthony Chairman

The old heads and the new heads got together last night at the banquet of local fraternity men at the Bainum Hotel and waxed reminiscent over the fruit cocktail and the fried chicken and the apple pie a la mode. About thirty attended. College songs were sung, stories of the sort common around college were told, and in general the atmosphere of school was recalled so vividly that some of those to whom school is only a memory only declared it was the best time they had had in years.

Just before adjournment the plan of a temporary organization was brought up. All agreeing that something of the sort was advisable, the motion was passed. Dr. F. R. Anthony, the toastmaster of the evening, was named temporary chairman. Philip Colbert was elected temporary secretary and Harold Ryan was chosen temporary treasurer. The chairman apointed Fred Wolfers, W. N. Deatherage and Bruce Montgomery as a committee on permanent organization. Monthly meetings may be held.

The principal addresses of the evening were made by Mr. Wolfers and Mr. Deatherage. They agreed that fraternities had a democratic influence and that an organization of fraternity men in Maryville was desirable. A random suggestion by the chairman near the close of the evening that this fraternity organization might later become the nucleus of a local university club was favorably received.

Nine social and seven professional fraternities were represented in the gathering.

Guests at Hamblin Home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hamblin have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Blake Alexander and children, Maud Phinney and George, of Bushnell, Ill., who arrived this morning. Mrs. Alexander was formerly Miss Nannie Smith of Maryville and she has a large circle of acquaintances here.

U. S. ARMY TURNED BACK TO CIVILIANS

SEC'Y BAKER SAYS DEMOBILIZATION SETS A RECORD

WE BROUGHT 'EM HOME

French and English Helped Carry Troops Over—364,000 Returned In a Month

Washington, Aug. 26.—The demobilization of our army to date was declared one of the greatest accomplishments of the war by Secretary Baker today in a statement pointing out the comparison between the figures in this war and those of '98 and '65. The secretary laid particular emphasis upon the great record of transportation achieved in returning the men from France.

"The demobilization record to date is one of the most splendid successes of the war," said the secretary. "It ranks favorably with the greatest achievements of the war. In one month alone we brought home more than a third of a million men, this with little help from the British and French shipping that had largely been withdrawn at that time. The British and French took more than fifty per cent of our men overseas, but almost single-handed we brought back as many as 364,000 men in the month of June, more men than were ever transported overseas in a single month.

"Demobilization during the present war has far eclipsed the work either of the Civil or Spanish wars. To date we have brought back from overseas more than 1,888,000 men. We have demobilized all but about 500,000 of our four million men.

"In one month after the signing of the armistice we had demobilized 351,206 men and 16,000 officers. In 1898 it took ten months to muster out 197,397 of the 216,256 officers and men serving when the American forces in that war was at its peak. Certain units were demobilized from the Philippines even later than that. In the Civil War the strength of the volunteer army was 1,034,064 when demobilization began. It took from May 1, 1865, to November 1, 1866, or eighteen months, to muster out this force. In approximately two and a half months after the armistice was signed we had mustered out 1,023,884 men and 62,000 officers, thus more than equalling the eighteen month record of the Civil War.

"The movement homeward and demobilization of troops began almost contemporaneously with the signing of the armistice. At the time the president, going abroad in March, ordered rapid demobilization, the first processes were well under way and from that time on we carried out a program of demobilization that is almost astounding under circumstances of transportation and other difficulties that had to be ovrecome.

"There are at present approximately 350,000 emergency troops to be discharged. There are less than 100,000 men now in Europe and under present plans there will be less than 35,000 men in France on September 1. There are already more than a hundred thousand new enlistments and about 85,000 new enlistments are needed to bring the enlisted quota of the army up to the authorized 225,000 strength."

Further figures on enlistments in the regular army show that 21,671 of the men newly enlisted have expressed their preferences as regards places of service. Of these 12,754 have expressed a desire to serve in Europe. Among the branches of service preferences given 37,344 want to serve in the infantry, while 11,878 express a preference for the cavilry.

SAYS THAT GREAT DEMAND WILL KEEP PRICES HIGH

Ralph Eversole, Recently Returned From New York, Finds That Heavy Buying in the East Continues

"The opinion among merchants in New York City and other big markets of the East is that goods will cost more next spring than they will this fall," says Ralph Eversole, of Eversole & Son dry goods, lately returned from a two weeks' buying trip to New York.

"There is no possibility of dry goods going down in price so far as I can see. There is much heavy buying of dry goods in New York today. Whether this is brought about by fear of much higher prices or for speculation I do not know."

The most logical cause for the prevailing and sustained high prices of merchandise, Mr. Eversole thinks, is the fact that European merchants are buying everything that they can get their hands on and are paying spot cash for it. The United States has become the market place for South America, also, which Europe formerly was. Present prices, therefore, are merely the working out of the law of supply and demand. The demand is great and the supply limited because European merchants have not been able to manufacture articles to any great extent for several years.

"The enormous sales to merchants across the Atlantic will tend to popularize American goods in those countries," says Mr. Eversole. "As to whether New York is setting the styles or Paris, I cannot say. The class of goods the small town merchant buys is not much affected by those considerations, since he buys a staple brand of ready-to-wear apparel. Of course, the large city store of an exclusive nature must cater to the ultra-fashionable and question as to whether New York or Paris designers lead become of considerable importance.

"Profiteering investigations have been confined strictly to food values in New York. No doubt there is profiteering to some extent in all lines of business.

"The transit strike which tied up the subways and elevated lines of New York for one day was noticed by us when we appeared at the places of business where we were buying. Many of the clerks were absent all day, being unable to get to work.

"The weather in New York was very cool while we were there. It rained two or three days in the two weeks spent there, and I learned that it rained considerably the greater part of the summer in that section."

Miss Lois K. Halley of Maryville, a graduate of the University of Missouri and formerly teacher in the Maryville High School, returned to Maryville Sunday night from Minnesota, where she spent the summer in health center work under the supervision of the University of Minnesota.

After a visit of two weeks here, Miss Halley will go to Fayette, Mo., where she wil have the chair of education in Howard-Payne College the coming session.

Miss Halley's summer work was in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. She was associated in her work with Miss Florence Briggs, who once was teacher of chemistry in the Maryville High School. Miss Brigs is now supervisor of the health center work in St. Paul.

LOS ANGELES IS TIED UP

Southern California Trouble Adds to Prevailing Excitement in the World of Railroads

Washington, Aug. 26—The committee representating the railway shopmen today notified Walker D. Hines, director-general of the railroads, they could not accept as a basis of setlement the 4 cents an hour increase offered them.

Washington ,Aug. 26—The next step of the railway shopmen in their drive for sweeping wage increases had not been decided early today. The question before the labor leaders was whether the strike voted for the six hundred thousand shopmen of the country was to be filled or whether the men, in response to the request of President Wilson, would be asked to vote upon the acceptance or rejection of the increase amounting to 4 cents an hour, as announced by Director-General Hines yesterday. The final decision is expected some time today, according to the labor leaders.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26—There is no indication of an early settlement of the steam railroad strike which has completely tied up Southern California from San Diego to Santa Barbara and Bakersfield. The strike has reached Yuma, Ariz.

Hourly the situation becomes more critical, with Los Angeles and other cities facing a shortage of supplies. Hundreds are marooned here and in various points in Southern California, unable to reach their destinations.

President Urges Co-operation

We are face to face with a situation which is more likely to affect the happiness and prosperity and even the life of our people than the war itself. We have got to bring our industries and our labor back to a normal basis after the greatest upheaval known in history and the winter just ahead of us may bring suffering infinitely greater upon us if we blunder or fail.

An admirable spirit of self-sacrifice, of patriotic devotion, guided and inspired us while the fighting was on. We shall need all these now and then in a heightened degree if we are to accomplish the first tasks of peace. If we fail, it will mean national disaster. The first step is to increase production and facilitate transportation * * * and so, as soon as possible, relieve our people from the cruel burden of high prices.

It goes without saying that if our efforts to bring the cost of living down should fail, after we have had time enough to establish either a success or failure, it will of course be necessary to accept the higher cost of living as a permanent basis of adjustment, and railway wages should be readjusted along with the rest. All that I am now urging is that we should not be guilty of the inexcusable inconsistency of making general increases in wages on the assumption that the present cost of living will be permanent at the very time that we are trying with great confidence to reduce the cost of living and are able to say that it actually is beginning to fall. —From President Wilson's statement to representatives of the railway shopmen.

FARRIS CHARGES THAT REED WOULD FORM THIRD PARTY

In Open Letter Phelphs County Representative Urges Senator Not to Do It

Senator James A. Reed, according to a dispatch from Jefferson City, is charged with plotting to wreck the Democratic party so that a third party might be organized, in an open letter made public by Representative Frank H. Farris of Phelps county, leader of the anti-Reed Democrats. In adopting the resolution at the St. Louis meeting declaring the Missouri senior senator out of harmony with his party, Farris declares that the Democratic state committee did so merely to advise Reed to stick to his party.

The Farris letter was prepared in answer to the one written by Senator Reed to John P. Leahy, St. Louis Irish Democrat, which charged the state committee usurped the powers of the party convention by endorsing the League of Nations, and urging the Irish Democrats not to bolt, as the party soon might get its feet on solid ground again.

The Phelps county legislator forced the Reed question to an issue at the recent state committee meeting over the objections of many Democrats who desired the party to continue to straddle. Farris threatened last winter when Reed spoke here to take steps to read the Missouri senator out of the party. He and eighteen other legislators walked out of the meeting Reed addressed. Farris says now he favors a state convention to follow up the action of the state committee and to let Reed know he does not represent his party by opposing the Wilson policies.

The Farris letter:

"The senator may advise his Irish friends to stick to the Democratic party, but adherence to a little such advice on his own account might be of wonderful benefit to the public, and in the future be a crowning glory for him. His party from every part of the state now is, and has been for the last three years, advising him to stick to his party, and that was the only purpose of the meeting of our committee. Twenty-nine of us are not attempting to drive one man, much less hundreds, from the Democratic ranks, but may we inquire why one man, even though a United States senator, will heedlessly disregard and trample upon the wishes of the great majority of his own party, as well as the views of the great majority of the whole people of his state?"

The Lure of the Open Road

A MAN who owns a motor car—be it a big, luxurious limousine or only a little flivver, has at command the means of satisfying one of his most primitive instincts, a desire to fare forth like a true adventurer and enjoy the freedom of the open country.

Accompanied by his family or his friends, he, like the Argonauts, can start a little journey into unfamiliar places.

He need have no fear of consequences, for the modern automobile is a sturdy, dependable friend. All it asks is gasoline, a little lubricating oil, and water. With this it goes up hill and down, without fret or worry.

The wayside brook, or the well on a friendly farm supplies the water, while gasoline and oil may be had anywhere from the Service Stations of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The splendid system of distribution organized and maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) covers every city, town, and hamlet, and in many cases there is a tank and pump beside the little store at the fork of the roads.

This complete distribution of its products is one of the chief services rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to the motorists of America, yet it represents but one of the many benefits derived by the public at large from the operation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant.

IF YOU KNOW ABOUT MOORE MURDER, NOTIFY VILLISCA

Iowa Grand Jury Will Ask You to Help Out in Seventh Yearly Investigation.

Villisca, Iowa, Aug. 26.—It is getting so that it is hardly safe for any former resident of Montgomery county who ever remotely figured in the Moore tragedy here, to revisit the state if they would avoid summons to appear before the coming session of the grand jury, which, from all indications, is preparing to make an extensive and expensive probe of the murders in the Moore home which have almost yearly for the last seven years been the basis of some sort of judicial investigation.

Dan Stillans, former resident of Villisca, who is here from Great Falls, Mont., on a visit with his parents, had been in the city but a few hours when an officer pounced upon him with a summons to appear before the Montgomery County grand jury October 14 next.

Similarly, Gay Cowgill of Kansas City, who was here visiting relatives, was visited by Sheriff Peterson and summoned to appear before the grand jury in October.

SHOES WILL BE LOWER.

National Retailers Say Range Will be $8 to $12 a Pair.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 25.—Officers and directors of the National Shoe Retailer's Association, in special session here yesterday, denied there was any organized profiteering among the retail dealers of the United States.

A statement authorized by the meeting said that many styles of footwear would be eliminated for the spring season of 1920 in an effort to reduce prices. The entire style program will be formulated with a view to eliminating duplication of styles and other conditions contributing to unavoidable costs. The statement said: "Instead of the almost innumerable colors prevailing prior to the war shoes for the spring season of 1920 will be made up in but nine shades."

Prices of shoes this fall, it was announced, will range from $8 to $12 a pair.

Miss Lucile Airy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Airy, will leave tomorrow morning for Brewton, Ala., where she will teach in the commercial department of a girls' boarding school.

Sunshine on Wash Day

It was "Blue Wonday"—Oh, how she dreaded it. The wash woman would come and there would be dirt and muss and steam and heat all the morning, or well into the afternoon. Perhaps the woman wouldn't come—wash women are getting scarce since the country went dry. Then she will have to literally get into the tub and scrub and rinse and wring and hang till she is about ready to drop.

What does she hear—someone at the back door—what is it? An Electric Washer—husband sent it up—the water is all hot and we will show her how to run it.

Forty-five minutes later and the washing hangs spotless on the line and she says, "Why, how easy—I'm not tired at all." And when hubby comes home everything is clean, dinner is hot and besides all that there's sunshine all over the place and a big hug and kiss waiting for him.

Say, ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?

Wealth is a Condition of the Mind

What profiteth a man to gain a fortune and then lose his automobile or his peace of mind?

The little boy with his goat wagon is sometimes happier than the owner of a Ford or an automobile.

Nobobdy would steal the goat nor burn his wagon.

He is rich because of the condition of his mind. He is happy because nature has not tightened his purse strings.

Nature is the soothing syrup to the boy, and a good automobile policy is the painkiller to the grown ups. You spend your money freely for the car, and then resort to magnetic treatment to keep your nerves quiet for fear of fire and theft.

Instead of going through this valley of gloom why don't you let us treat you to a good insurance policy against all these hazards.

A few dollars invested in a good automobile insurance policy, would purge your mind of fear and be a cathartic to your entire make-up.

If you knew your automobile was going to be stolen or burned up you'd break your neck to get to our office for a fire and theft policy. Not being able to judge what the future has in store for you, why don't you take a fire and theft policy against your car and if it is burned or stolen let the company buy you a new one.

FEWER HOGS LOST IN U. S. BY CHOLERA; VALUE LARGER

Timeliness in Vaccinating is All Important, Says Department of Agriculture

According to records of the United State Department of Agriculture for the 13 months from April 1, 1918, to April 30, 1919, hog cholera killed 2,815,004 hogs, valued at $62,042,688.16, in the United States. This is the lowest loss by numbers for a similar period in the live stock history of the United States, but on account of the high price of hogs the monetary loss was heavy. For example, during the year ending March 31, 1913, hogs numbering 6,064,470 and worth $58,833,653, died from cholera, while the next year the disease took 6,304,320 hogs worth $67,697,461.

Department experiments show that timeliness in vaccinating hogs against cholera is all important. When exposed hogs were vaccinated, while till apparently healthy, losses amounted to only 4 per cent, but when vaccination was deferred until the animals showed external signs of sickness, losses averaged nearly 29 per cent. This shows that the man who puts off the preventive treatment until his hogs are sick with cholera stands only about one chance in seven of preventing fatal results. It is important, also, to maintain hog yards and barns in clean and sanitary condition.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 25. —A liberal run of cattle today, 29,000, included few good to choice fat steers and an unusually large per cent of common grades. The best were strong and others sold slowly at weak prices. Hogs were 25 to 50 cents higher and sheep steady.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 29,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs, 17,000 sheep, compared with 30,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep a week ago, and 33,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs and 6,300 sheep a year ago. Cattle receipts included few fat western offerings and the bulk of the supply came from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Sheep receipts, 17,000, included a liberal supply from Utah.

Beef Cattle.

Choice to prime fed steers and the best grass fat cattle were in active demand at strong prices. A few loads of choice native steers sold at $18@$18.90, or as high as any time in the past two weeks. Some yearling steers brought $17.75, and wintered steers $13.50@$15.50. Straight grass fat steers brought $9@$13.50. Common half fat grassers sold slowly at last week's full decline, or 50 to 75 cents under a week ago. Butcher cattle were quoted steady, cows at $5.50@$11.25, and heifers $7.50@$12.50. Veal calves were $1 higher at $9@$16.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Nearly all weights of stock and feeding steers that showed quality were in active demand at steady prices but a large number of common light weight grades were hard to move at irregular prices. Feeders sold at $9@$14.50, mostly $10@$11.50, for 800 to 950 pound weights. Stockers brought $8@$11.50, stock cows and heifers brought $6@$9.25.

Hogs.

Trade in hogs was active at 25 to 50 cents higher prices, top $21.45, and bulk of sales $20.50@$21.25. This advance occurred in the face of declines at more Eastern markets and was caused by large demand from local packers and shippers. Prices today are as high as a week ago. The price spread here is much narrower than elsewhere. Demand for stock and feeding pigs is urgent at $18.50@$20.25.

Sheep and Lambs.

Demand for fat lambs was active at steady prices. Receipts from the West were liberal and included several large bunches of 63 to 70 pound Utah lambs that sold at $16.75@$17. Fat sheep were steady to 25 cents lower and stock and feeding grades steady. Fat ewes are quoted at $7.50@$8.75, wethers $9.50@$10.50, and yearlings $11@$12.25. Feeding lambs sold at $12@$14.75.

Horses and Mules.

Beginning September 1st, auction sales of horses and mules will be held on Monday and Tuesday, instead of Fridays and Saturdays.
